TERESA LUNA TO RESIGN AS DIRECTOR OF IDAHO DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION

(BOISE) – Governor C.L. "Butch" Otter announced today that Idaho Department of Administration Director Teresa Luna will resign from that position after this session of the Idaho Legislature.

An interim director will be appointed at that time, Governor Otter said.

The Department of Administration has about 145 employees.

"I admire Teresa's tenacity and commitment to doing the right thing," Governor Otter said. "I am proud to call her a friend."

Luna was appointed director at the Department of Administration in March 2011. She previously was chief of staff at the agency and interim director after the previous director's 2010 retirement.

The Department of Administration is responsible for such State government functions as contracting for and purchasing of goods and services, technology oversight, risk management, group insurance, public works, and administrative rules.
